Again, can I have a head count of those who've gotten into this module and taken it versus those who tried and can't get in? Mike

I know everyone is pressed for time. BUT..... Have any of you actually gone through the module? Have any of you been able to get onto the training site? Mike

Drug Lab Colleagues,

I am highlighting this UMass memo for an online safety training to your attention for several reasons:

- 1) on the e-mail it is headlined.....Online Training.....with no source noted. Some of you may have deliberately deleted this "unsourced" memo without opening it
- 2) some are wondering whether we are obliged to take a UMass directive
- 3) in the context of our present level of activities, anyone considering taking the module is pressed for time and may have made it a low priority

In any event, we are obliged to take the module. If you dumped your e-mail for this, use the memo below to gain access.

Mike
